

Train 11 West ..... 10:28 a.m.
 Train 12 East ..... 10:21 p.m.
 Mails West Close ..... 10:00 a.m.
 Mails East Close ..... 9:45 p.m.

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

PUBLISHED IN THE PREMIER COAL MINING CENTRE OF THE CROW'S NEST PASS.

Advertise in
The Journal
 It Goes into the Home

The Most Effective Advertising Medium for reaching the People of Town and District. The Journal goes into the Homes.

Vol. 11 No. 45

Coleman, Alberta, Thursday, November 17, 1932

$2 per year, single copy 5c

Opening Shot Fired of 1933 Municipal Elections

Citizens League vs. United Front Will Wage Campaign for Control of School Boards and Town Councils Pass Towns

Election to Fill Six Vacancies on Coleman Council and School Board Will Be Stubbornly Contested "United Front" Supporters Open Campaign

The Citizens League and the "United Front" candidates and their respective supporters will wage a red-hot municipal election campaign in February, in Blairmore and Coleman. Bellevue, not being an incorporated town, will not be as "hot" as the other centres.

The Ukrainian Labor hall in East Coleman has been established as headquarters for the United Front committee, which acts in collaboration with the Workers Unity League and its allied organizations which directed the strike here earlier in the year.

The first gun in the campaign is fired by calling a meeting of United Front supporters to discuss nominations for councillors and school trustees. At Blairmore it is reported that "Bill" Knight, pool room operator and a strike leader who gained local prominence by vociferous action last summer, is in the field for the mayoralty, at present held by Postmaster J. H. Farmer. W. H. ("Bill") Chappell has been asked by opponents of the United Front to enter the contest, but he states that on advice of his physician, he must refrain from active participation in public affairs, and he recently resigned from various organizations in which, for a considerable time, he held office.

A mayoralty contest will not be held in Coleman, Mayor Pattinson serving a two-year term, having been returned at the last election by a majority of six over C. Makin, the Communist nominee. For the school board they nominate three to fill the vacancies caused by the expiry of the two-year terms of Chairman J. M. Allan, W. Antrobus and Frank Barrington. The keenest fight will centre around the school trustees, as the qualifications for voters permits any resident, irrespective of property rights, to exercise the franchise. The Communists at present have two of their party on the board; Sudworth and Holly, who are among the disinterested as a result of their activities during the strike.

With Murphy serving a three-months term in Lethbridge jail, there has not been the same element of "pop" and vituperative oratory that usually accompanies the activities of the various revolutionary organizations which keep the fires of discontent smouldering among the workers. With his release, it is anticipated that renewed enthusiasm will be instilled to rally support to United Front candidates and to avert the "bourgeoisie."

For three vacancies on the town council, caused by the expiry of the terms of Councillors Rushton, Jackson and Burrows, United Front candidates will be nominated, but their chances for election are heavily discounted owing to the fact that the majority of voters on the town list are property owners who naturally have conservative tendencies regarding their own property and the selection of representatives to administer town affairs.

The Citizens League in both towns will marshal its forces to combat the influence of the revolutionary party. Instead of indifference which for years has been a bugbear to those who desire progressive administration, the indications are that every voter will be on his toes exerting his influence for the candidates he favors. Consequently there will be a deluge of words—and more words. Street signs will buzz with animated conversation, meetings will be held in out-of-the-way places; election conspiracies will be hatched and propaganda disseminated—in fact it would appear there are indeed dark times ahead.

Notes on The Snowstorm

Several mishaps are recorded as a result of the heavy fall of snow and low temperatures over the week end. Early Sunday morning a car conveying several Coleman young people stalled on the highway around Crows Nest lake. They abandoned the car after becoming exhausted in trying to extricate it, and took shelter in Summit Lime Works. Some of the party are reported to have suffered from frostbites.

The government snow plow made a trip on Tuesday to Crows Nest, and the highway is now open, but with the chinook wind now prevailing, there will be a wet trail west of the inter-provincial boundary. Several cars were ditched on Sunday and service cars of garages were busy.

A Greyhound bus travelling east on Tuesday was ditched near Macleod.

A truckload of pigs en route to Coleman capriized near Cowley. The driver escaped injury, likewise the pigs. When last seen the pigs were "boofing it" westward.

A young lady from the east passed through town on Tuesday driving a small coupe heading for California. She expected to be in California in a week.

Harry Clark, local meteorologist, reported the lowest temperature during the week was 6 below zero. Lethbridge reported 28 below.

Coleman sidewalkers were promptly cleared of snow on Monday. It enabled people to get around without plunging knees-deep in drifts. Very few required prompting by the town constable to get busy with a shovel.

United Church Notes

At the morning service Rev. W. H. Irwin of Taber will address the congregation. He represented Lethbridge Presbyterian at the recent general council of the United church held at Hamilton, Ont. His message will stress the high lights of the recent council. The junior choir will lead the singing.

In the evening Rev. John Wood will be the speaker. Mr. Taylor will conduct the evening service at Bellvue United church.

The quarterly official board of St. Paul's will meet in the church on Sunday at 2:30 p.m. All members are requested to attend, as business to be discussed is important.

Strangers and visitors are cordially invited to the services—Rev. Roy C. Taylor, B.A., B.D.

St. Alban's Church Notes

Next Sunday the services will be: 11:15 a.m. morning prayer; 12:30 p.m. Sunday school.

Returning to China

One of Coleman's earliest inhabitants, E. L. Gooey, pioneer laundryman, since 1903, has decided that the stress of earning a living for a large family is too hard to endure, and with the assistance of the town council in financing, intends to return to his old home in the province of Canton. He has nine children, the youngest under two years of age. He came here when there were very few buildings, and a railroad station. He got off the train at Blairmore and walked to Coleman, where he commenced in business. Mr. Disney, contractor, he remembers as a particularly good friend. His property will be held in security, and the parties purchasing his business will repay the loan made to him to enable him to move his family.

Rod and Gun Club Prize Presentations

The annual presentation of prizes to the Rod and Gun club took place in the council chamber on Friday evening. Nov. 11, Alfred Phibbin, sr., as president of the club, making the presentations.

The club prize for 1932 open competition, for the heaviest fish caught during the season, was won by Sylvester DeKlyne. Ernest W. Beart, secretary of the club, won the Sam Moore trophy, given by the heaviest fish caught in any of the fixed competitions.

The executive of the club express through The Journal their thanks for prizes donated during the season by the business men, which helped greatly in providing interesting competitions.

Vejpreva-Fraser Wedding

Frank Vejpreva, well-known defence player for Coleman Canadian hockey club, and Patience, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Fraser, were married at St. Paul's manse last evening by Rev. Roy C. Taylor. They were attended by Marjorie Halliwell as bridesmaid and Frank Chiesi as best man.

Following the marriage ceremony, a number of guests met at the home of the bride's parents, where the wedding supper was served and the newly-weds received congratulations. Mrs. Ed. Barnard, of Lethbridge, sister of the bride, was here for the occasion.

They will reside in Frank, where Mr. Vejpreva has lived for a number of years, and their many friends among the younger people join in extending them hearty congratulations and good wishes.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

To Policyholders of Great-West Life Assurance Co.:

It gives me great pleasure to announce that there will be an increase in the Company's scale of profits to policyholders beginning Jan. 1st, 1933. The increase will apply to all the usual plans of insurance. W. H. Hunter, district representative, Nanton.

Dunlop, W. Anderson, M. Odgers, J. H. Williams, T. Sudworth, M. Gordas.

Use of Theatre Appreciated

The Armistic Day committee and the Canadian Legion express their thanks to the owners and management of the Palace theatre for the free use of it for the memorial service on Friday last, and for their helpful co-operation in various ways.

Coleman Honors Day of Remembrance by Impressive Service

Spirit of Service and Sacrifice Necessary to Preserve Peace Theme of Main Addresses

Fourteen years ago last Friday the news flashed around a weary world that hostilities of over four years between European nations had ceased. People remember that eleventh of November, 1918, with whole hearts thankfulness, end in remembrance of the enormous sacrifice entailed two minutes silence has been observed at 11 a.m. on that date of each year, throughout the British Empire.

Coleman branch Canadian Legion, Girl Guides, Boy Scouts and St. John Ambulance Association, with citizens generally, honored the day by a memorial service in the Palace theatre, dignified in its simplicity and which impressed on them the duty of carrying on in the spirit of service and sacrifice which marked the lives of those who passed on during the war.

Mayor Pattinson presided and announced the order of service. The words of the hymns were shown on the screen, and the singing was led by a string orchestra under W. J. Harris, with Mrs. Clifford as accompanist.

Rev. Roy C. Taylor, of his experience as a soldier in the war, gave a stirring address, in which he appealed to all to "hold high the torch from falling hands." His words went home to the hearts of all. Not in the spirit of glorifying war, but in the lessons it taught of the necessity of maintaining peace, he appealed to all to live their lives that it would minimize the possibilities of another such conflagration which occurred during those war years.

Mr. George Kellock's address, in connection with his presentation of flags to the Girl Guides, stressed the value of the flag and the constitution under which we live.

Many were seeking remedies for the evils the world is suffering from, but none of them promised the freedom and liberty to the people such as is enjoyed under our own flag. He warned against seeking a way out of our difficulties by revolutionary methods, but to stand for that liberty of thought and free speech which the flag of our nation symbolizes.

The flags were dedicated by Rev. A. S. Partington, and were received by Mrs. R. P. Borden, captain, and standard bearers Thelma Vincent and Joy Ferguson. Miss Jessie L. P. Church, provincial secretary of the Girl Guides, occupied a place of honor on the stage.

Immediately preceding the two minutes silence, the honor roll was read by Mr. Partington, and on a signal from the mutes sirens, absolute silence was maintained. Wreaths were placed on the memorial plaque by the Legion, and the "Last Post" and "Reveille" sounded by James Lowe, the people standing at attention.

With the singing of the national anthem and the benediction pronounced by Rev. Fr. Speckmayer, who also read the scripture lesson earlier in the service, the memorial service ended.

Honor Roll

J. P. Gregory, H. Clae, Leon Henriet, Jules Gerin, C. Mitchell, W. Maggs, E. Blais, J. A. Price, J. A. Josephs, R. Turner, C. F.

Notice of Annual Meeting

The Annual Meeting of Coleman Crystal Rink Limited will be held in the Council Chambers on Wednesday, November 23rd, 1932, at 7:30 p.m.

H. C. MCBURNEY, President

Shower for Coleman Bride

On the evening of Nov. 4, a lovely shower was held at the home of Mrs. J. Nash, in honor of Mrs. Vernon Lotz, nee Miss Margaret Nielsen.

The evening was spent playing bridge; six tables were in play. First prize went to Mrs. G. Hope, consolation to Mrs. H. Snowdon.

During the evening Mrs. Lotz was presented with a beautiful decorated basket, carried by Helen Nash and Esther Nielsen, loaded with gifts from friends assembled. Mrs. Lotz thanked her friends and the hostess in a few well-chosen words. After a dainty luncheon, the crowd singing "For She's a Jolly Good Fellow," brought a very pleasant evening to a close.

Those present were: Mesdames Hope, J. Lonsbury, Regner, Peet, Emmerson, Neilson, Lotz, Halliwell, Boulton, Colagrosso, Al Longbury, Holstead, Ryan, Stokes, Sist, Hatfield, Snowdon, Smith, Planté, Bowen, Creegan, Milley, and the Misses Gladys and Esther Neilson.

Ex-Service Men Re-Organize Canadian Legion

--H. Garner President

Propose to Open Club as Soon as Membership Enrolled—Executive Committee Elected

The Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League has reorganized the local branch, with the following executive: Harry Garner, president; Bert Garrett and Tom Rose, first and second vice presidents; Lt Col R. F. Barnes, George A. Brown, S. B. Ryan and Andrew Harry. They were elected at a meeting held on Nov. 14 in the council chamber.

Many were seeking remedies for the evils the world is suffering from, but none of them promised the freedom and liberty to the people such as is enjoyed under our own flag. He warned against seeking a way out of our difficulties by revolutionary methods, but to stand for that liberty of thought and free speech which the flag of our nation symbolizes.

A proposal to rent club quarters in Coleman hotel was submitted, and a finance committee under the chairmanship of R. F. Barnes reported that with a minimum of 40 members, at a fee of 50c per month, rental, per capita tax to the provincial command and subscription to The Legionnaire, the official magazine of the Canadian Legion, would be provided for. The report was adopted, and the executive worked to complete its destructive work while people looked on in sympathy for those who suffered the loss and hardship of being deprived of their homes in terribly cold weather.

The heat was so fierce that it melted ice and snow 50 feet or more from the buildings. East Coleman had suffered losses by fire every winter and being outside the incorporated area, without water or lighting system, very little can be done to combat fires.

Five Families Homeless Through Fires in East Coleman on Monday

Lack of Fire Fighting System Renders Efforts Futile to Save Homes From Destruction

Dire misfortune befell five families in East Coleman on Monday evening, when fire completely destroyed their homes. It broke out about 8:30, presumably from over-heated stoves, in a house owned by Mr. Semla, and occupied by his son-in-law and family. Only a few feet separated the houses on the immediate east and west sides, and these were destroyed in less than an hour. Some contents were saved from two of the houses, but the house on the east side, the tenants of which were out when the fire started, was blazing so fiercely by the time the householder heard the alarm, that he could not even get in through a window, though he bravely attempted it, and badly gashed his hand. In addition to his household goods he is reported to have lost his savings of over $100.

Householders living in the same block removed the contents of their homes fearing the fire would spread. At 10 p.m. the danger of the fire spreading appeared to have passed, and many from town who had walked over returned. Later, however, a slight rise in the wind from the east caused two more buildings to become engulfed in the conflagration.

A absence of wind and careful watching saved other buildings from igniting, otherwise the fire would have spread with alarming proportions and rendered many homeless.

The only fire protection in that quarter is from wells or water from the river. Lack of organized methods or even a bucket brigade permitted the fire to complete its destructive work while people looked on in sympathy for those who suffered the loss and hardship of being deprived of their homes in terribly cold weather.

The heat was so fierce that it melted ice and snow 50 feet or more from the buildings. East Coleman had suffered losses by fire every winter and being outside the incorporated area, without water or lighting system, very little can be done to combat fires.

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY of Dulcie Richards, who passed away on November 15, 1930.

Sleep sweetly dear Dulcie, Life's trials for you are over; And some day we'll greet you On heaven's golden shore. Ever remembered by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Richards, and brother.

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY of Dulcie Richards, who died Nov. 15, 1930. It's a long time today, Dear Dulcie since you went away, You're still in our memory dear, As the day you passed away.

Ever remembered by Sister Olive, Wayne, Alberta,

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY of Dulcie Richards, who died on November 15, 1932.

Memory drifts to scenes long past, Time rolls on but memories last; Sunshine passes, shadows fall, Love's remembrance outlasts all.

Ever remembered by her Aunt and Uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. Richards, and Lorenzo and Ethel.

Flowers for any occasion may be ordered through Frank H. Graham, at the post office. Prompt service assured at all times, by telephoning

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND "SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

Strength And Courage.

Can we do better this week, following so soon after the observance of Remembrance Day, than reproduce in this column an editorial from the National Home Weekly, published in Whinipeg? We think not. See here it is:

Gradually it is becoming clear to the minds of most people that conditions today are far more serious than they were during the years of the War. For then, men were buoyed up by hope. They knew that in time their troubles would be over. But no one can tell when this present misfortune will end. The news of yesterday has become the dead black cloud of today. With man's desire for happiness comes fear from uncertainty.

It will not be out of place, then, to recall the words and deeds that during the War inspired hope and undying steadfastness. Of all the written messages there was perhaps nothing finer than the address of General Cipriano to the Canadian army on the eve of the great advance in March, 1918. In his speech clearly set out the signs of victory and of defeat; he indicates the successes already won, and states the need of the moment. Finally he speaks of the reward of victory. The message will be read again with vivid recollections by those who were in the ranks in 1918. May all who read it now for the first time feel that it is equally appropriate today. The problems to be solved, the forces to be overcome, are just as real and great, and the virtues of constancy, courage and self-sacrifice are just as necessary.

SPECIAL ORDER, March 27th, 1918.—"In an endeavour to reach an immediate decision, the enemy had gathered all his forces and struck a mighty blow at the British Army. Overwhelmed by sheer weight of numbers the British Divisions in the line between Scarpe and Oise have fallen back fighting hard, steady and undismayed.

"Measures have been taken successfully to meet this German onslaught. The French have gathered a powerful army, commanded by a most able general, and the British Army is not failing to help. Fresh British Divisions are now being brought in. The Canadians are soon to be engaged. Our Motor Machine-Gun Brigade has already played a most gallant part and once again covered itself with glory."

"Looking back with pride on the courageous record of your glorious soldiers, I hope you realize that today the fate of the British Empire hangs in the balance. I place my trust in the Canadian Corps, knowing that where Canadians are engaged there can be no giving way."

"Under the orders of your devoted officers in the coming battle you will advance or fall where you stand facing the enemy."

"To God be the Glory! You will name your fate but be proud to have borne such sons. Your names will be revered forever and ever by your great country, and God will take you unto Himself."

"Canadians, in this fatal hour, I command you and I trust you to fight as you have fought with all your heart, with every determination, with all your strength. On many a hard-tough field of battle you have overcome this enemy. With God's help you shall achieve victory once more."

The seriousness of conditions today can be observed in both home and foreign affairs. Unemployment is increasing, and worst of all young people just entering manhood and womanhood are being deprived of the opportunity to earn a living or to form life associations or to contribute to good citizenship. The result is a growing feeling of discontent. Each individual is inclined to blame all others for preventing him from achieving his aims.

Internationally, the problem is even more acute. Debtor countries are refusing to pay, because they feel that they have been unjustly treated, or because they no longer have world-cold to meet the demand. Nor will tariff barriers permit payment in the form of goods. To accentuate the mischief is to add fuel to the fire. The cost of armaments is an overwhelming factor in the national budget of all countries. All of these things make for the spread of those national hatreds which are one of the causes of war. If quarreling is easily possible when people are prosperous and inclined to be neighborly, it is almost certain to occur in extreme form when they lose confidence in each other, and when extreme distrust prevails.

The only way to avert disaster is the way of unselfishness and self-sacrifice. It is true today as of old that regardless of race, color or creed man is his brother's keeper. It is true now as two thousand years ago that man shall and their lives be lost for the truth. The victories of peace are as glorious as the victories of war, the works of war as glorious as the works of peace.

Driven by the higher motive, it is easy for men to transform a world.

The channels of trade will be thrown open, waste areas will be populated, armaments will be cast away, production and consumption will find a balance. Within the same opportunity for culture and comfort will be measurable equalities among all the peoples of the world. The cost of the machine's production, the position of the many shall be of more account than the desires of the few; the rich shall not batton on the poor, the laws of the land shall not favor the designs of the privileged class. But each man, recognizing that his neighbor has rights equal to his own, shall honor and respect them. Righteousness, the highest form of manhood, is the spirit of General Currie's message. In 1918 men may be as brave, as loyal and as nobly self-sacrificing as they were in 1918. May they hear again the words, "Canadians, in this fatal hour, I command you, I trust you to fight as you have fought with all your strength, with all your determination, with all your manhood courage. . . . With God's help you shall achieve victory once more."

Season To Open Early

Steamship Sailings From Britain To

Churchill To Start In July

Steamship sailings from the United Kingdom and Antwerp for Churchill will start in July, 1923, according to word received by A. Ross, secretary of the board of trade, from Thomas Harting and Sons, steamship agents, Montreal. The first ship will load general cargo in England and European ports for the prairie provinces. The communication states that rates will be the same from England and Belgium to Churchill, as from overseas ports to Montreal, thus giving prairie buyers a distinct advantage in lesser nail haul.

Green apples can be made rosy red in 48 hours by treating them with ultra-violet light, but the process is at present very costly.

Puerto Rico, Hawaii and Alaska are buying more automobile casings this year than last.

Had Spectacular Career

British Mourns Captain Hunter

"Father Of The Navy"

Britons mourn the death of Capt. James Edward Hunter, 83, "Father of the Navy." Captain Hunter entered the Royal Navy as a cadet in 1848 and began a spectacular career. He first figured in dispatches when as a young officer, he led six volunteers in a boat in a gale off Sebastopol in the Crimea. War and saved 47 marooned on wrecks, braving heavy seas. After retiring from active service Captain Hunter became engineer-in-chief of the navy.

Just His Bad Luck

Customer: "You said the tortoise I bought from you would live three hundred years, and you did die the day after I bought it."

Dealer: "Now, isn't that too bad? The 300 years must have been up."

In a recent month 3,000 radio licensees were issued in England.

Her Heart Was Weak Nerves Shaky, Nights Restless

Mrs. A. Black, Wallaceburg, Ont., writes:

"I suffered from heart weakness, shaky nerves, and restless nights. I took your advertisement for Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and decided to try them although I did not have much faith, but now I am very thankful I did as they have proved of wonderful help to me."

I am now strong and well again, but am never without a box in the house."

For sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont.

Old Country People Drinking Goat's Milk

More Easily Digested and Free From Tuberculosis Germs

The people of the United Kingdom are drinking more goat's milk. Twenty years ago the production was 2,000,000 gallons a year. Six years ago it had increased to 12,000,000 gallons. Today it has reached the high figure of 20,000,000 gallons (declares the Sunday Express). And these are the reasons:

Goat's milk is more easily digested than cow's milk; it is richer in butterfat; it is free from tuberculous germs; and women have found that it will make their skins more beautiful. They have learned that a "peach-bloom" complexion can be acquired simply by bathing the face, neck, and arms two or three times a day with goat's milk.

STAIRS MADE HER GASP FOR BREATH

Penalty Of Excess Fat

Although she has lost but 7 lbs. of her over-weight, this woman finds that 7 lbs. has made a remarkable difference to her health. She can certainly be nothing wrong with a reducing treatment that brings such increased energy and vigor.

Her letter reads: "I am 53 years old and weigh 165 lbs. Last Monday I began taking a half-teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts, making no change in my diet. Now I am less round the hips, and my weight 147 lbs. I am able to sit up straighter, and more run upstairs, which before used to make me gasp for breath. Everyone says how well and fit I look, as I am in a store, and get no walking exercise at all. I am not fat, but the fact remains that I feel much better than of late years—not so heavy—and I now enjoy dancing."

Kruschen is based on scientific principle—it is an ideal blend of 6 separate minerals which help glands, nerves, blood and body organs to function properly and maintain a splendid physique. It builds up energy and strength all the while you're training yourself down to a point of normal weight.

Means Revenue For Paris

Electrically Lighted Ad On Elief Tower Changes Fourteen Times

The Citroen electrically lighted ad on Elief Tower Split Paris into factions. The friable artistic considered it sacrilege, the stolidly practical considered it added revenue for the city. It changes 14 times—a giant rose bush, flashes of lightning, a constellation of stars, a sky high fountain rising and falling, etc. Only once does it burst into a full length spelling out of C-i-t-r-o-e-n.

OFF COLOUR? HOW IS YOUR LIVER?

Wake up your Liver Bile

—Without Calomel

Your liver's a very small organ, but it requires your digestive and eliminative organs to work well. Take a glassful daily of two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. You won't completely correct such a condition by taking calomel. It is a very smooth motion, it makes the skin roseleaf in texture. Recommended also to soften and whiten the hands. Truly a peerless toilet requisite for every woman.

Omnibus Billboards

Often Distract Driver's Attention

From Important Traffic Directions

There are two causes against the billboard on the highway. It not only mars the landscape, and destroys the natural beauty of roadside scenery, but its garishness also distracts the attention of the driver of the car. Important traffic directions posted along the road are often lost in a welter of commercial signs. In the interests of safety the most conspicuous signs on the highway should be those placed there by the highway department to direct traffic.

Equality Of Punishment

System Now In Use Could Be Vastly Improved

A fine is a most effective way of registering social disapproval and for this reason will probably continue for a long time as a part of our penal system. But can a defend a system which for similar offenses fines the wealthy and imprisons the poor? A scientific system of fines which had some relation to the capacity of the individual to pay would probably result in a considerable reduction of the number of commitments for non-payment.—New Statesman and Nation.

Cause Of Asthma

No one can say with certainty exactly what causes the establishing of asthmatic conditions. Pollen, flowers, from grain and various other irritants may set up a trouble impossible to irradicate except through a sure preparation such as Dr. D. H. Morgan's "Gentle Remedy." It may exist as to cause, but there can be no uncertainty regarding a remedy which has freed a generation of asthmatic victims from the scourge of the bronchial tubes. It is sold everywhere.

Takes Control As Walter

A Cornish baronet, who is eighth holder of the title is going to Tangier as a hotel walter, and has pledged himself to remain for six months. He is Sir William Law Williams, aged 25. He was educated at Cambridge and has been an officer in the Royal Welsh Fusiliers.

Vacuum cleaners are being rented in Belgium for 25 cents a day.

Twenty-seven United States submarines are out of commission.

W. N. U. 1968

Send for this FREE BOOK!

One hundred and eighty-six ways of curing your colds especially for the asking. Send for our new cook book "The Good Provider."

Borden's ST. CHARLES MILK UNPRESERVED EVAPORATED

The Borden Co. Limited
175 George St., Toronto, Ont.
Please send me free copy of "The Good Provider".
Name _____
Address _____

Landlords Would Be Protected

Quebec May Grant Them Priority

Or Leases On Installment Goods

A bill that would give to landlords priority of lien on goods bought by installment, instead of the merchants who sell them, will be presented at the next session of the Quebec legislature, it is announced by Rosario Gaudry, secretary of the Property Owners' League of Montreal. Such a measure, Mr. Gaudry explained, would provide landlords with further protection against tenants who went beyond their means in the purchase of long-period-to-pay goods.

Latest Flying Invention

Newest Plane Can Be Controlled By

One Finger

An airplane which can be flown, maneuvered, and landed with only one finger is the latest flying invention. The machine is of the autogyro "windmill" type and is being built under license near Glasgow.

There is only one control for all movements of the machine. Apart from the operation of opening and closing the throttle, the whole control of the craft literally can be done with one finger.

Persian Balm—there is nothing like it

for creating and preserving a healthy complexion—calms irritation—it soothes and eases dryness caused by weather conditions.

Delicately fragrant, it adds exquisitely to the most finished appearance. Damask Rose, Indian Rose, Persian Balm, very smooth motion, it makes the skin roseleaf in texture. Recommended also to soften and whiten the hands. Truly a peerless toilet requisite for every woman.

Obnoxious Billboards

Often Distract Driver's Attention

From Important Traffic

Directions

There are two causes against the billboard on the highway. It not only mars the landscape, and destroys the natural beauty of roadside scenery, but its garishness also distracts the attention of the driver of the car. Important traffic directions posted along the road are often lost in a welter of commercial signs. In the interests of safety the most conspicuous signs on the highway should be those placed there by the highway department to direct traffic.

Equality Of Punishment

System Now In Use Could Be Vastly

Improved

A fine is a most effective way of registering social disapproval and for this reason will probably continue for a long time as a part of our penal system. But can a defend a system which for similar offenses fines the wealthy and imprisons the poor? A scientific system of fines which had some relation to the capacity of the individual to pay would probably result in a considerable reduction of the number of commitments for non-payment.—New Statesman and Nation.

English, French and French

English is spoken by 160,000,000 and is understood by 60,000,000 or more who do not look upon it as their native tongue. German is spoken by 90,000,000 and is understood and used by 20,000,000 more. French is spoken by 45,000,000 and understood and used by 75,000,000 more.

An Oil That Is Famous

Though Canada was not the birthplace of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, it is the home of that famous preparation. First here and now it was spread in Central and South America, the West Indies, Australia and New Zealand. That is far enough to attest its excellence, for in all these countries it is on sale and in demand.

Wholesale commodity prices in Chile are 50 per cent. higher than a year ago.

Recipes For This Week

(By Betty Barclay)

CHERRY ROLLS

1½ cups cake flour, sifted.
3 teaspoons baking powder.
½ teaspoon salt.
2 tablespoons butter or other shortening.
½ cup milk (about)
1 can (2 cups) red cherries, seeded and drained.

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder and salt, and sift again. Cut shortening. Add milk gradually until soft dough is formed. Roll ½ inch thick. Cover with cherries. Roll in long roll, pressing edges together. Cut into ½ inch slices. Place in greased pan and bake in oven (425 degrees Fahrenheit) 30 minutes, basting often. Serve hot, with sauce poured around them and a tablespoon of whipped cream placed on each slice. Serves 6.

SAVORY MEAT LOAF

2 thin 2-inch slices salt pork, diced.
2 pounds round beef, ground.
½ cup quick-cooking tapioca.
½ small onion, finely chopped.
2 cans cannot tomatoes.
½ teaspoon salt.
½ teaspoon pepper.

Try out salt pork until golden brown. Add pork and drippings to other ingredients and mix thoroughly. Bake in loaf pan, 7½ x 3 inches, at 400 (450 degrees Fahrenheit) 15 minutes; then decrease heat to moderate (350 degrees Fahrenheit) and bake 30 minutes longer. Serve hot or cold. Garnish with parsley. Serves 10.

Milner's Worm Powders work so effectively that a rate of worms can be found. The pests pass away in the stools without being perceptible. They attack the lining of the intestines, and nothing in the shape of a worm can be found lodgement there when these powders are in operation. Nothing could be more ought or desirable than their action.

One Thing They Know

"People who live in these apartment buildings don't know anything about each other, I hear," said the man from the country.

"No," replied the flat dweller, "but you can't have cabbage for dinner without everybody else in the building finding it out."

Britain's longest-lived people have been found in the rural districts near Newcastle, where many people still lead primitive lives.

More used cars are being sold in France than in many years.

CHILDREN'S COLDS

CHECKED 2-1/2 OZ.
OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

VICKS VAPORUB

OVER 17 MILLION JARS USED YEARLY

Britain And France Have Asked U. S. For War Debt Extension

Washington—Great Britain and France have asked the United States to relieve them of their war debts payments due next month and enter into a discussion of the whole debt question.

No sooner was this disclosed today at the state department than President Herbert Hoover—speeding back from the west—wired President-elect Franklin Roosevelt to confer with him at the White House on this and other governmental matters.

Publication of the notes confirmed reports that the British and French governments were seeking to reopen the question for discussion with a view to revision and in the meantime requesting an extension of the Hoover moratorium of June, 1931, to cover the December 15 payments.

Such questions can be passed upon finally only by congress.

The French and British move is regarded as only a part of a concerted effort by America's war debtors to obtain a complete overhauling of the terms of their obligations.

Greece last week failed to meet a payment due the United States and Hungary served notice she cannot meet hers in December.

Payments on principal can be postponed with 90 days' notice under the 1929 debt funding agreement, but in effect is supposed to be deposited.

From three other countries—Estonia, Latvia, and Poland—the American government previously had received word they cannot make the payments on principal due December 15.

Keen interest prevailed in governmental circles here as the state department gave out the texts of the British and French notes.

These and voluminous data on the subject last week had been dispatched post haste to President Hoover. The tenor of both notes was the same.

Prompt action was urgently called by both Great Britain and France. They cited concessions they made at Lausanne in agreeing to a reduction of German reparations to about 11 per cent. of their agreed value and emphasized this as the chief argument for a re-examination of war debt settlements.

The British communication was a note for Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, to Henry L. Stimson, American Secretary of State. The French document was a memorandum presented to Mr. Stimson by Ambassador Claudio and bearing no signature.

The Lindsay note recounted the circumstances under which the one-year moratorium was granted June 30, 1931, in the effort to "relieve pressure of the difficulties resulting from the fall in prices and lack of confidence in economic and political stability," and said that as this purpose has not been accomplished "thoughtful men throughout the world are convinced that if the depression is to be overcome further remedial measures must be sought."

The note described the British government as believing "the regime of intergovernmental financial obligations as now existing must be reviewed" and as "profoundly impressed with the importance of acting quickly."

London's 142 hospitals had a total income of $19,055,000 last year.

Canada's Wheat Crop Is Now Estimated At 431,200,000 Bushels

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada's total wheat crop is now estimated at 35,800,000 bushels less than it was in September, by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. In a report released Thursday afternoon, November 10, the total wheat crop for the entire Dominion was placed at 431,200,000 bushels compared with September estimate of 467,000,000. Most of the decrease is in the prairie provinces where Thursday's estimate was 411,000,000, and in the September estimate 446,000,000.

The crop report Thursday was eagerly awaited by western members of the House of Commons. "It may help the price of wheat some," one of them suggested.

Banker Foils Bandit

Vancouver Hold-Up Is Frustrated By Action Of Bank Manager

Vancouver, B.C.—Less than two hours after a bank gunman attempted to hold up the Sixteenth Avenue and Oak Street branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, police arrested a suspect who is believed to be guilty.

The man was arrested at his home by officers, who stated that on searching his room they found a revolver from which a bullet had been fired recently.

Quick thinking and prompt action by E. Devereux, manager of the branch, foiled the holdup attempt and demonstrated again that the manager was no easy mark for "stick-ups."

Shortly before noon a man entered the bank carrying a satchel. Going to Devereux's desk he pointed a gun at the manager. Devereux immediately dropped behind the counter and reached for his own gun. The bandit fired one shot and fled in a car, which was recovered by police 20 minutes later and discovered to have been stolen from H. Wright.

On July 28 last two men entered the bank and attempted to hold up Devereux. The manager rushed into his office and fired several shots through the window to attract attention, frightening the bandits, who fled in a waiting car.

Debate On Grain Routing

Want Prairie Grain Shipped Through Maritime Ports

Ottawa, Ont.—East clashed with west in the House of Commons over routing prairie grain through Maritime ports.

"We have the facilities. Use our ports," cried the Maritimes. "Wheat reaches world markets through the cheapest channels," returned western members and its routing was a business proposition.

For three and a half hours the House discussed the six-cent wheat preference secured in the Anglo-Canadian trade treaty and its effect on the routing of prairie grain. Temps became frayed in the evening. Premier R. B. Bennett protested against "constant reiteration" and "useless arguments" when parliament cost the taxpayers $15,000 a day.

Still For Prohibition

Andrew Volstead Has Not Changed His Viewpoint

St. Paul, Minn.—Andrew J. Volstead said he was still convinced prohibition is the thing for the United States.

Asked to comment on gains made by the wets in the election, he replied: "I have seen too many elections to have national sentiment mean anything to me. I am still for prohibition." He refused to amplify.

Volstead, co-author of the dry act, pertaining his name, is legal adviser to the district prohibition administrator here.

Will Not Visit London

Albany, N.Y.—President-elect Roosevelt denied reports published in British newspapers that he would visit London before taking office and that he was inclined toward favorable war-debt terms with Great Britain.

Wife of Stalin Is Dead

Most Powerful Figure In Soviet Russia Is Bereaved

Moscow, Russia.—Nadya Allilieva, wife of Joseph Stalin, most powerful figure in all Soviet Russia, but herself a retiring woman who lived plainly, is dead.

The Tass agency, official Soviet news organization, announced her death but gave no details.

She was 30 years old. Only a few months ago she had completed a three-year course at the All-Union Industrial Academy which qualified her as an expert in the production of artificial silk and made her eligible to a high administrative-technical post in an important section of the Soviet textile industry.

In addition to Stalin, their two children—a boy of 12 and a girl of seven—survive her. There also is a stepchild, Stalin's son by a previous marriage, who is 23.

For Sound Money

Bennett Scores Propounders Of New Monetary System

Toronto, Ont.—The credit of Canada has been preserved to an extent that it stands pre-eminent among the nations of the world. From Prime Minister R. B. Bennett came this declaration as he addressed delegates to the Ontario Conservative Association annual banquet.

To the propounders of a new monetary system for the use of printing presses to turn out more dollar bills, Premier Bennett issued a rebuke: "If we do it we destroy this country, and its credit, and once you do that the appetite for more becomes insatiable. It became so insatiable in Germany that it took about 1,000,000 Marks to put a letter."

Free State Will Not Pay Land Annuites

Government Not Giving In To British Says De Valera

Dublin, Ireland Free State.—Eamon de Valera, president of the council of the Irish Free State, told members of the Fine Gael party, of which he is a member, that so long as this government is concerned the land annuites will not be paid.

"The new duties against Ireland produce what we expected. We knew that the United Kingdom would attempt to bully and coerce us and if we give in we shall always do so," he said.

Mass Flight Of 'Phanes

Rome, Italy.—General Italo Balbo's long planned mass flight of military aeroplanes from Rome to Chicago and return for the 1933 Chicago Exposition, was officially announced today by the Italian Government. The flight will start in June and will take probably two months by easy steps. The northern route—Ireland, Iceland, Newfoundland, New York will probably be chosen.

Shorty Before the Raid

Winnipeg, Manitoba—Steel-helmeted militiamen, with full field equipment and machine guns, are stationed at federal penitentiaries in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Twenty-five men were in each detachment to leave Winnipeg fully equipped and supplied with a plentiful quantity of ammunition. The troops despatched to Prince Albert carried a truck load of ammunition, while both detachments had machine guns.

There are nearly 600 convicts at Prince Albert, while those housed at Stony Mountain total several hundred, probably near the thousand mark.

Death Toll In Cuban Storm Now Mounts To One Thousand

Camaguey, Cuba.—More than 1,000 dazed and suffering refugees from hurricane-stricken Santa Cruz Del Sur were brought to Camaguey in crowded boar trains.

Ambulances sped through the streets, taking them to improvised hospitals. There were not ambulances enough, and taxicabs, private automobiles and buses were pressed into service. The refugees were weary, hungry and burned by the sun. Many of them were frantic with worry. With pitiable anxiety they inquired about missing relatives and friends.

Back in Santa Cruz grave diggers worked to dispose of at least 1,000 bodies, victims of the destroying wind which swept the little city built on a point jutting into the sea, and of the 20-foot wall of water which piled up and rushed inland.

Meanwhile, medical supplies and clothing were brought here by train, aeroplane and steamer.

Secretary of Public Works O'Neill said after a plane trip to Santa Cruz that not a single house was standing. He was sure the death toll would mount above 1,000, and he placed the total injured at 700.

"I have never seen such a tragedy in all my life," the secretary said. "Damages are incalculable, since the entire city—which had 3,500 inhabitants—was wiped out. I lifted boards and planks and found corpses of children underneath. It was horrible." Official advice before the hurricane came were meager, according to Lieut. Carrillo, military supervisor of Santa Cruz, who did his utmost to clear the place of people before the wall of water struck it.

Wednesday night, the Lieutenant said, a fisherman came to him and declared: "Lieutenant, you may shoot me if I lie, but look at that sea. When the wind changes it is going to sweep in and flood Santa Cruz."

Carrillo immediately began clearing out residents of the city, threatening some of the laggards with his pistol. He probably saved the lives of several hundred before the storm struck. After the inundation he did his utmost to assist in the rescue work until finally he collapsed. The next thing he remembers he was riding on a plank which had washed up and crushed him.

All business activities in Camaguey were suspended Friday and the city devoted itself solely to caring for the storm sufferers.

An Associated Press representative who flew over Santa Cruz Friday morning said the city still was flooded and every house was reduced to planks, plaster and stones. About a mile and a half at sea he saw floating debris.

Hunger Leader

Wai Hannington, the militant organiser of the London "hunger march" which recently resulted in serious rioting in the British Capital. Hannington has been arrested, charged with "inciting to mutiny" and he will probably receive a stiff sentence.

Labor Statistics

171,668 Canadians Were Unemployed On June 1st

Ottawa, Ont.—On June 1, 1931, the date of the Dominion-wide census, Canada's unemployed total stood at 471,668, according to a return tabled by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, in the House of Commons. The wage-earners numbered 2,564,879, of whom 81.9 per cent. were at work.

The number of "unemployed in the ordinary meaning of the term" was 392,609, or 15.32 of all wage-earners, since these persons recorded themselves to have "no job." Others were laid off temporarily, some were out of work through sickness, accidents and lock-outs.

Of the wage-earners, 2,017,606 were males, and 547,273 females. Of the former, 422,694 were not at work, and of the latter, 48,674.

Police Make Second Raid

Seize Literature Of Alleged Communists In Calgary

Calgary, Alberta.—Extending their operations against alleged communistic organizations in search of the root of trouble among single unemployed, city and Royal Canadian Mounted Police swooped down on a downtown office building and seized literature and documents.

Shortly before the raid Wilson Ponerty, 21 years old, was arrested at Victoria Park, site of the city's community kitchen where single jobless are being fed on a charge of disorderly conduct.

The raid will be the second to be carried out within 36 hours and Ponerty's arrest was the eighth to be effected as a result of the clash between police and jobless at Victoria Park and consequent investigations.

BRITISH MARQUESS MAY CONQUER EVEREST BY AIR

LORD CLYDESDALE • MT EVEREST • MAHARAJAH OF NEPAL

Soldiers On Guard

Militia Men Stationed At Federal Penitentiaries In West

Winnipeg, Man.—Steel-helmeted militiamen, with full field equipment and machine guns, are stationed at federal penitentiaries in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Twenty-five men were in each detachment to leave Winnipeg fully equipped and supplied with a plentiful quantity of ammunition. The troops despatched to Prince Albert carried a truck load of ammunition, while both detachments had machine guns.

There are nearly 600 convicts at Prince Albert, while those housed at Stony Mountain total several hundred, probably near the thousand mark.

Senator Haydon Dead

Has Been In Ill Health For Over Years

Ottawa, Ont.—Senator Andrew Haydon, 65, died at his home after a lengthy illness.

Senator Haydon was among the three members of the Upper House who were censured for the part he played in the Beaucharnac power negotiations, following long investigation into the affairs and political affiliations of that project last year.

For more than two years Senator Haydon had been ill health. His rugged constitution broke down shortly after the 1930 general elections when he was director of the national Liberal organization.

Table Supplementary Estimates In House

Total Of $1,534,957 Added For Present Fiscal Year

Ottawa, Ont.—Further supplementary estimates for the present fiscal year, totalling $1,534,957, were tabled in the House of Commons by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance.

The largest single item in the list is an appropriation of $975,000, a further amount required for unemployment relief under the administration of the Department of Pensions and National Health.

Position Of Britain On The Vital Question Of Disarmament

London, Eng.—We are endeavoring to transmute into practical form the overwhelming desire and passionate hope of the British people to make disarmament an accomplished fact."

To a world perplexed with the assertions of various powers concerning the vital question of disarmament, whose efforts towards that end have thus far met with small success, Sir John Simon made the foregoing statement in a speech in a crowded House of Commons.

It was significant that the British government chose, through its foreign secretary, to announce its attitude to the disarmament problem on the eve of Armistice Day. "A fair meeting of Germany's claims on the principle of equality," was favored by Sir John, who pleaded that "the European states should join in a solemn affirmation that they will not in any circumstances attempt to resolve any present or future differences by resort to force."

Recognition of the right of parity in armaments would entail on Germany, along with others, the acceptance of this corresponding obligation of an assurance of peace. Sir John recognized the fact that the arms limitations imposed on Germany by the Treaty of Versailles were to be preliminary to a general limitation of arms. It was not the desire of other countries to inflict permanent inferiority upon Germany but the tendency to change the Versailles Treaty restrictions was from anxiety as to the developments that might arise from the resulting situation, with the possible disturbing of the tranquility of Europe.

These further principles were laid down on behalf of the government of Great Britain: 1. That the limitation of Germany's armaments by specific provisions in the Treaty of Versailles should be superseded; Any limitation of Germany's armaments should be expressed in a document that would at the same time limit the armaments of other nations.

2. The duration of such a disarmament convention should be the same for Germany as for other countries.

3. The British Government was willing in co-operation with other members of the disarmament conference to see the principle of equality embodied in the prohibited classes of armaments (chemical warfare, etc.) was embodied in the new document.

PROFESSIONAL AND BUSINESS

Alex M. Morrison
Conveyancer
Fire, Life & Accident Insurance

R. F. Barnes
BARRISTER AND SOLICITOR
Phone 365 Coleman, Alberta
Residence Phone 240B

Summit Lodge
NO. 30, A. F. & A. M.
Regular meetings held first Thursday of each month, at 8 p.m.
Visiting Brethren cordially invited
S. C. Short, W. M.
Maurice W. Cooke, Secretary.

DENTISTRY

R. K. Lillie, D.D.S., L.D.S.
Graduate, N. U. D. S., Chicago
HOURS:
Coleman—Morning 9 to 12
Blairmore—Afternoon 1 to 6
Evenings by Appointment
PHONES: 1 Both Offices 33x2 — Residence 33x3

GEO. H. GRAHAM
PAPERHANGER
PAINTER ••• DECORATOR
We have in stock for the Retail Trade the following
Wallpaper, Paints, Brushes,
Glass, Wall Felt, Etc.
Phone 249W, Coleman.

Wood
in Stove Lengths FIR or PINE
Fine Big Load $5.00
J. PLANTE
Dray and Transfer, Coleman

FLOWERS
Choice Cut Flowers for EVERY Occasion
—
Frank Graham
Post Office or Phone 81 w

Coleman Novelty Store
Agents for
Monarch Wool
See A. E. KNOWLES for Firewood for Sale and Furniture Removed

Your Own Photo
Views Printed on Christmas Cards
You supply the negative, we will have prints made, mounted on cards and your personal greeting with name and address printed for Per Dozen $3.00
Two Dozen $6.00
Additional Dozen $3.00

Coleman Journal
Order early to allow ample time to fill orders

Review of Reviews
The Editor of MacLean's Magazine gives you the best review in Canada.
All for only $2.00 for one year; 24 issues
82 other magazines are read to select the articles you want to read twice a month.
This is only a department in addition to encouraging fiction and many current articles.

Send your orders to:
The Journal Office

THE COLEMAN JOURNAL

Published Every Thursday at Coleman, Alberta. H. T. Halliwell, Proprietor
Membership Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and Alberta Press Association

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1932

NOTES AND COMMENTS

To Business Men

Printing houses in cities, asked to quote on printing orders for towns where there is a printing office, in competitive bids, try and freeze out the country offices by quoting at cost or sometimes below, in order to get work to keep them going. The printing office and small town newspaper is compelled to meet these quotations or go without the business. In view of the fact that a town newspaper and printing office is an advantage from various points of view, and that it does far more in matters of a public nature which are of interest to the town and the people, than any city printing house does, it is necessary that it be given some preference in the placing of orders for printing.

The decrease in advertising revenue is over 40 per cent. compared with 1928,—our best year since starting in Coleman.

In Job work the figure shows a heavy decrease.

The result is that capital is impaired, no reserve for depreciation can be made, and there is a limit to which this can continue.

The public and business men want to see a newspaper continued, but of course they are bound by their own limitations as regards giving advertising support. They can materially help by placing all job orders with the local printing office.—H. T. Halliwell, Publisher.

Prevention is Better Than Cure

Low temperatures, necessitating more heat in homes, increase the fire risks. Heavy snow blocks roads, making motor travel difficult. Many people, through lack of money, are carrying less fire insurance than usual, or none.

For this reason, added precautionary measures should be taken by the town council's fire committee. Following a heavy fall of snow over the week-end, it is probable that the inefficient fire truck would have been unable to battle drifts that blocked the streets. Though a policeman walks around by day, no watch is kept at night. The public protest against excessive insurance rates. Efforts to institute lower rates will pass unheeded until insurance underwriters are satisfied that more efficient methods prevail in coping with outbreaks. The town has adequate water pressure through the mains, its hydrants are placed at frequent intervals, but the entire system is heavily discounted because of inefficiency of the truck which carries the fire-fighting apparatus.

A previous fire committee made it a strict rule that the fire truck was to be tried out daily. Is this rule being observed? Are the ratepayers being given the fire protection they are entitled to? These are questions which demand answers to reassure citizens that they will be given protection to which they are entitled.

A street grader should be put over all roads in town following a heavy snowstorm. On Monday cars were stalled at the principal intersections. A day's work with a team or motor truck would have made passable all principal thoroughfares and made it easy for the fire truck to reach fire hydrants in case of fire.

Immediate arrangements should be made by the council for night duty to guard against burglaries and fires. It is a matter which might well be given serious attention-by the town council. Result getting and prompt action is of prime importance in dealing with burglaries and fire outbreaks.

Far better to spend money in prevention than to bear the loss which accident or carelessness entails. Promptness and vigilance are the first essentials.

Most important is the necessity of householders exercising every possible precaution on their own premises.

Nominations for the town council and school board are under consideration by the Citizens League, also the Communist party. The latter have adopted the name of the "United Front." They have as many names as a chameleon has colors, but the underlying purpose is the same—to promote the Communist policy of government. Citizen's League supporters must recognize that efficient organization is necessary to combat the methods of their opponents, and that elections can be won only by aggressive action in which vigorous support must be given to their candidates. Now is the time to prepare, if vain regrets are to be avoided. Difficulties of municipal and school administration are sufficient without increasing them.

Many red-hot radicals become moderates when saddled with responsibility. They quickly find that government is not a one-man or one party business—it can only be carried on by the law of give and take.

President Hoover proved as big a man in defeat as in victory. He was beaten—not on policy—but by the biggest enemy any government faces under existing conditions—depression, discontent and the attitude of mind which considers a change could not make things any harder.

TENDERS

Tenders for the rental of Coleman Crystal Rink will be received by the undersigned up to Nov 21st. Ask for particulars.

H. C. McBURNEY, Chairman

Remington Portable Typewriter

SELECT a gift this year that will be used and appreciated always... choose a Remington Portable! For child or adult, professional man or student, here is a present that will be a constant reminder of the donor's thoughtfulness. Beautiful—colorful—durable, the Remington is the smallest, lightest, most compact portable made. Several smart color combinations. Handsome carrying case. Convenient payment plan.

The Journal Office

Every Thirty Minutes

Fire attacks a dwelling in Canada. Five were destroyed here this week. Do you know what time yours will be visited?

BE PREPARED!

Insure now in reliable British and Canadian companies, represented by the pioneer insurance agent in Coleman, noted for reliable service.

A. M. MORRISON

Fire, Life, Accident and Automobile Insurance

International Coal & Coke Co., Ltd.

Producers of High Grade Coal and Coke

PROMPT ATTENTION
To Local Deliveries

GENERAL OFFICE HOURS:

International Coal & Coke Co., Limited
Coleman Light & Water Co., Limited

Saturdays: 8:30 a. m. to 1:00 p. m.
Other Weekdays: 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

The Western
Savings and Loan Association

The facilities of the Western Savings and Loan Association affords you the opportunity, by means of small monthly payments, to accumulate a substantial sum.

Interest at the rate of 6 per cent, compounded half-yearly, is allowed on payments made. Certificates fully guaranteed.

Applications for First Mortgage Loans Considered

Enquire for Details

GEO. HOSKIN
District Representative
221A 8th Ave., Calgary
Western Savings and Loan Office

H. T. HALLIWELL
Local Agent

Brewed in Alberta
ARE BEERS

Months of careful brewing of high-grade grains, choice hops and pure mountain water, go to make these sparkling, full-flavored beverages. Aged for months and fully fermented before they reach the public. Drink properly brewed beers only, the purest of all beverages.

AGENTS FOR THE BREWING INDUSTRY OF ALBERTA

DISTRIBUTORS LTD.

Household Delivery Service

Phone 103 Coleman

This advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board, or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

Christmas Card Special

Box of One Dozen assorted Christmas Cards including packet of Christmas Seals for

50c

Only a limited quantity at this bargain price, regular value is One Dollar

Tinsel Silver Cord and Ribbon for tying packages, regular 10c a ball, now 5c.

JOURNAL OFFICE

Hockey and Skating

Boots and Skates for Youngsters and Elders

Outfits from $2.00 Up

Hockey Sticks from 25c to $1.75

Sleighs and Skis.

Coleman Hardware Co.

Phone 68

W. Dutil, Mgr.

McGILLIVRAY GREEK COAL and COKE CO. LTD.

Shippers of High Grade Bituminous Steam Coal

Head Office and Mines:

COLEMAN

ALBERTA

Here's a RADIO Bargain

KOLSTER RADIO, Console Model, formerly sold for $250.00, now selling (second-hand) for $30.00

Why Be Without Radio When You Can Buy This?

SAM'S SERVICE STATION
or PHONE 27 or 122F

For the
CHILDREN'S SUPPER

there's nothing like BREAD with milk.

Give the kiddies food that will satisfy their appetites; food that will digest easily; substantial food that will build up their little bodies.

Bread is that kind of food.

Active days! Dreamless nights!

These are nature's priceless gifts to children who eat.

Bread is your Best Food—Eat more of it.

MOTHER'S BREAD
"The Bread That Builds"

BELLEVUE BAKERY
Phone 74w, Bellevue J. Shields, Local Dealer

Scout Borden Writes to District Commissioner Gresham

Hamota, Manitoba
Nov. 2, 1925.

Dear Mr. Gresham:

I am sorry I have neglected writing to you for so long. I have written to both the Provincial and Dominion commissioners, and I forgot the District commissioner.

Mr. Backman told me that he and Mr. Stiles had been to Blairmore for a district gathering. I would certainly like to have been there.

I should give you a good long account of the happening this summer in Ottawa.

I got out of the hospital after an operation on my eye on July 26, two days after the Conference began. I went on duty immediately.

What most of our duties consisted of was attending the delegates and others at the Parliament buildings. Some were detailed to Government House to open and close car doors, etc., and to stand around most of the time.

During the conference the Parliament Buildings were only open to the public on Saturdays and Sundays, and during those two days we had to guide people through the main parts of the buildings, and explain and point out the main points of interest.

One evening we boys from Alberta were invited by Mr. Bennett to dine with him, but on the evening he was very busy, and he only had time to come and shake hands with us, and talk for a few minutes. Afterwards we had supper with Miss Miller, Mr. Bennett's secretary.

Each boy was only supposed to stay at the conference for one week, but I had to see the eye doctor quite often, so Mr. Currier, as assistant commissioner, allowed me to stay for the whole duration of the conference. However, I missed the last two days when I left Ottawa for Nova Scotia on Aug. 26.

A number of boys were disappointed owing to the conference ending two weeks before the set date. The last two weeks didn't attend at all.

I feel very sorry for them because they would probably have their holiday broken up on account of the preparations for the trip, and they would be terribly disappointed in not getting to their objective.

I will be home at Christmas, and I will try to see you to have a talk as it is hard to say much in a letter.

Yours truly,
L. F. Borden.

Watkins-Ford Wedding

At St. Albans' church at 7 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 10, Albert Leonard Watkins and Evelyn Ford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Ford, were married, Rev. A. S. Partington, B.A., officiating. The bridal couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. J. Shields, the latter being the bride's sister.

Mr. Watkins, for three and a half years, has been manager of the government liquor store, and has taken an active part in various local organizations, besides being a past warden of St. Albans' church.

In the Masonic lodge he held the office of chaplain, and in appreciation of his services, he was presented with a handsome watch at the last regular meeting. Alex. M. Morrison making the presentation in a gracious manner, stating he had filled a difficult position and had an efficient dispenser of "good cheer."

A second presentation of a fountain pen set was made by the vestry of St. Albans' church last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Creegan, when members and wives met for a social evening. The rector, Mr. Partington, voiced the good wishes of the gathering, and made the presentation, and H. T. Halliwell spoke of Mr. Watkins' faithful and efficient service in the church organizations, and of the quiet yet active interest he had taken in community activities during his residence here. He was also a member of the executive of the Canadian Legion.

The bride is well-known here, her father being town clerk, and most of her life has been lived in Coleman. The happy couple will make their home in Edmonton, and the good wishes of many friends will follow them to the capital city.

Here and There

Buildings which will house the World's Grain Exhibition and Convention at Regina next July and August are rapidly approaching completion and preparations are already being made for the extensive exhibits.

Canada's apple-growing belt is moving northward. Standard apples have been grown this year at the Canadian Experimental Farm at Brandon, Manitoba, which is 428 miles north of the international boundary between Canada and the United States.

Canada has entered the British West Africa market for tobacco with a trial shipment of Canadian-grown tobacco recently. About 77 per cent. of British West Africa tobacco has been imported from the United States, but Canada hopes to get the market under the new inter-Empire preference.

National Fish Week between October 24-31 has been supported by the Canadian Pacific Railway since 1918 and this year was no exception.

To mark the occasion the celebration will be special menu cards listing fish products of the sections of Canada through which the fish are run, from Saint John, N.B., and Vancouver, British Columbia.

Canada lost one of its best-known and popular railroad officials recently when A. Atkin, assistant superintendent of the British Columbia and Pacific Railway, dropped dead in Toronto on his way to his office. Mr. Atkin was 60 years of age and had spent 34 years in the company's service.

The Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Britain was the scene of a wedding reception and breakfast at Quebec recently, following the marriage of Mlle. Marthe St. Laurent, daughter of the president of the Canadian Bank Association, to Dr. Mathieu Samson. Five hundred guests filled past the mid-day group assembled in the Mayfair Lounge of the Empress.

Not forgetting his work as director of the International Flood Relief Commission in 1921, China has asked Sir John Hope Simpson, famous British organizer, to join its newly created commission to help combat the flood. Sir John had recently aboard the Empress of Canada for Shanghai to wind up the flood relief commission affairs.

The United States Middle West and the Province of Quebec have been the scene of a wedding reception and breakfast at Quebec recently, following the marriage of Mlle. Marthe St. Laurent, daughter of the president of the Canadian Bank Association, to Dr. Mathieu Samson. Five hundred guests filled past the mid-day group assembled in the Mayfair Lounge of the Empress.

Leaving a money belt containing round-the-world steamship and rail tickets and a cool thousand dollars in cash at the Vanier hotel, Chicago, on Oct. 21, Los Angeles only discovered his loss after his ship, the Empress of Canada, had sailed from Vancouver. "Wireless" messages to the Canadian Consulate assembly general passenger agent resulted in recovery of the belt and its forwarding by airplane in time to reach the vessel before she left Victoria.

(875)

PERSONAL STATIONERY

The Journal office will print 100 good quality envelopes for $1.00, or 100 letter size paper for $1.00, or 100 business size paper for $1.00, including postage and handling, and the cost of name and address. Cash at the time of ordering. Leave an order for your personal correspondence.

SPECIAL

We are introducing the new line of

LINA CAVELIERO COSMETICS

appearing for the first time in Canada

We are offering

FREE OF CHARGE

samples of these famous cosmetics and also Beauty Analysis Cards

HUFFMAN'S

Barber Shop & Beauty Parlor

7 DAYS EXTRA SPECIAL VALUES 7

Sat. Nov. 19th to Sat. Nov. 26th

Fine Wool Dresses, size 16 to 42, at	$3.45
Rough Crepe Silk Dresses, from	$9.95
Travel Tweed Dresses, specially priced	$6.95

1 only, Taffeta Dress, size 20 $4.95

Children's Lambskin Coats, at $2.95

Hats and Bonnets to match 95c

Ladies' Fine Wool Hose, regular $1.25, for 65c

Ladies' Silk Hose, Service Weight and
Chiffon, at 85c to $1.50

3 only, Ladies' Winter Coats $17.00

Ladies Felt Hats, newest styles, from $1.50

Children's Pullover and Sweater Suits, Red and Fawn, just the thing for play $1.50

Silkuit Garments—Pyjamas and Nightgowns,
Brassiere and Bloomer Sets, Vest and Bloomer Sets, very suitable for gifts, from 95c to $1.25

Come and look over our XMAS STOCK, a small deposit will hold any article.

H. E. Gate Store

ZAK'S MEAT MARKET

PHONE 53 COLEMAN

Week-End Specials

Empire or Dominion Bacon, by the piece, per lb.	17c
Cottage Roll, per lb	18c
Pork Sausage, Fresh and Delicious, 2 lbs for	25c
Fresh Tomato Sausage, per lb	15c
Pork Shoulder Steak, 2 lbs	25c
Fresh Side Pork, per lb	68c

EXTRA SPECIAL IN BEEF

Sirloin or Round Steak, per lb	15c
Round Steak, per lb	15c
Stew Beef, 3 lbs for	25c
Pot Roast Beef, per lb	10c

50¢ SPECIAL

2 lbs of Sirloin or Round Steak,	50c
1 lb of Tomato Sausage,	50c
Half pound of Bacon. ALL FOR	50c

1 lb Dominion Sliced Bacon, 1 lb Tip
Top Butter, 2 lbs Pork Sausage, 4 lbs Pork Shoulder or Veal Pot Roast, for — FREE DELIVERY —

ENVELOPES AT WHOLESALE PRICES

Merchants who may require plain No. 8 Commercial Envelopes for retailing may obtain same in 1 M. lots at The Journal Office. 20M. on hand to be sold for cash bargain prices.

Clip this coupon and mail it with $1 for a six weeks' trial subscription to

THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR
Boston, Massachusetts, U. S. A.

In it you will find the only good news of the world from its 800 special writers, as well as departments devoted to women's and children's interests, sports, music, art, literature, science, and religion. It is a magazine that requires an advocate of peace and prohibition. And don't miss Books. Our Dog Books are the best.

The Christian Science Monitor, Back Bay Station, Boston, Mass.
Please send me a six weeks' trial subscription. I enclose one dollar ($1).

(Name, please print) _____

(Address) _____

(Town) _____

(State) _____

EDWARDSBURG
"CROWN BRAND"
CORN SYRUP

At trifling cost

The CANADA STARCH CO., Limited, MONTREAL

the most Nourishing and Delicious Food

WORLD HAPPENINGS BRIEFLY TOLD

Dr. H. W. McGill of Calgary has taken over his duties at Ottawa, as deputy supt.-general Indian Affairs.

The United States agreed to an extension until March 1, 1933, of the naval holiday agreement which was due to expire November 1.

The Canadian post office announces the suspension of parcel post service to Manchuria, except to Japanese services in southern Manchuria.

Dr. Hugo Eckener will go to the Dutch East Indies in January to study the possibility of inaugurating a zeppelin service between Amsterdam and Batavia.

Informal exchanges have passed between the Canadian and French governments on several occasions with regard to the negotiations of a new trade treaty between the two countries.

Elimination of forest fires, and air lanes of the continent made safe for aeroplanes, possible through weather forecasting, was the prophecy of John Patterson, director of the Meteorological Canadian Institute at Toronto.

Newspapers in Mexico City report the Department of Immigration will refuse the colonization request of about 20,000 Mennonites now living in western Canada and the United States.

Arrangements are being completed in London for the organization of the first great sweepstakes for British hospitals, to be run in connection with the next Grand National—on March 24.

The London Daily Mail forecast Great Britain would make a disarmament gesture which would include total abolition or severe curtailment of bombing and fighting aircraft throughout the world.

The government will take steps to keep closer watch as to whether all holders of better bonds are paying their proper income tax on them. This was intimated by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, Minister of Finance, in the House of Commons.

Must Use Special Stamps

Postal authorities warn the public of the use of postage stamps to make up odd amounts on postal notes. Effective November 1, odd amounts on postal notes must be affixed in special postal note stamps, purchaseable at the post office.

There are two kinds of wives, says a cynic, those whose husbands do as they are told and those whose husbands do not need to be told to do it.

MEN--WOMEN--WANTED
Wonderful opportunity. Ambitious beginning. Permanent Waving, Permanent Perm, Permanent Hairdressing, Haircutting, Electric, Auto-Mechanics, Chauffeurs, Waiters, Waitresses, Nurses, etc. Write—Modern United Systems, 202 Alexander Ave., Winnipeg, Shows in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon, Vancouver.

W. N. U. 1933

The New India

Will Be Country With Equal Opportunities For All

It is often said that Great Britain has gone too far in the surrender of power in India to retreat from what she has done, but it is equally true that India has gone too far ever to get back to the evils of the past. A democratic India, an India devoted to far larger measure to industrialism, an India to which world trade will be an essential will be an India transformed in her social life. The India of the future will not be an India in which millions are damned from birth or in which privileges are reserved for the few representative of their deserving. It will be an India in which the opportunities will be equal for all. We are witnessing the slow dying of an epoch. It is for us all to see that it is replaced by something better.—Calcutta Statesman.

Over eleven hundred grafted crabapple trees, one and three years old, of sixteen varieties, on Siberian crab roots and northern grown, have been obtained and will be either planted in the Government Nurseries or distributed to the Institutional Farms. The work is being done in a orchard plot 1,370 feet long, 376 feet wide has been laid out and planted with caragana windbreaks. Sixty each of thirteen varieties of hardy crabapple trees have been ready to be shipped to Bradford. The balance of the eleven hundred have been heeled in at the Regina Nursery and will be set out next spring. Two thousand four hundred young Siberian crab have been obtained and on these will be grafted wood of named crabapples and standard apple stock.

Nearly seventy-five standard apple trees in six varieties have been obtained. These are all varieties that have proven satisfactory in Manitoba and in parts of Saskatchewan where they have been tried out by private individuals.

All these trees will be budded or grafted on Siberian crabapple roots and are perfectly hardy.

The majority of these apple trees will be planted in the Regina Nursery in order to get seeds for future planting and distribution.

About one hundred and eighty northern grown, one two, and three year old plum trees, of the best varieties produced to date in Western Canada, were obtained and were planted this fall in the Government Nurseries at Regina, to supply budding material for propagating these varieties.

These grafted plum trees represent the best varieties. One thousand five hundred and ninety seedling plum trees have been obtained for stock or to fruit.

In addition we have obtained from the Experimental Station at Morden, near nine bushels of plum pits from early very hardy plum trees, as well as from a few prominent high quality improved varieties developed on the Bradford farm. The plum seed included the following varieties:

Winnipeg..... 8 pounds

Olson..... 5 "

Carstensen seedling..... 17 "

Native plum..... 150 "

Early Night..... 75 "

Mammoth..... 35 "

Assiniboine seedling..... 25 "

Vaneta..... 40 "

Beechwood seedling..... 30 "

Crescent..... 8 "

Cheney..... 8 "

Assiniboine..... 15 "

A portion of these plum pits have been planted in the Regina Nursery and in other diversities among the Institutional Farm grounds, where they also have been planted. The pits are planted three inches deep about one to two inches apart in rows three feet apart so that they can cultivate between the rows. The pits are being put over the rows in order to retain moisture and assist in germination. Of the plum pits retained for the Regina Nursery, on half has already been planted and the rest will be planted in the spring. A record will be kept of the best germination under each method for future work.

The apple seeds and crabapple seeds have been planted in the Regina Nursery. We have obtained 200 pounds of Western grown fruit from which the seed, mostly Siberian crab, will be taken, and in addition the Experimental Farm grounds. This will be used to plant a series of apple and crabapple trees from which the seed will be used as root stock on which to bud the standard varieties from cuttings and buds obtained from the experimental farms and experimental farms. We are getting bud wood from one hundred varieties of apples and grafting it on the Siberian crab stock next spring.

We have sent a public invitation to all private orchard owners in Saskatchewan after they have eaten their apples and crab, to save the seeds and forward them with their names to the Experimental Farm and Horticultural Nurseries at Regina, as a voluntary contribution to the cause of fruit growing in Saskatchewan. From private sources we expect to receive many valuable materials. Part of the apple and crab apple seed will be planted this fall, and the balance will be kept in a cool cellar when it will be taken out in the spring, soaked in water and then planted.

Mr. J. E. Park, the provincial landscape gardener, who has had a very valuable experience in experimental fruit work, is planning to introduce a set of records in the Regina and on each Institutional Farm, when bookkeeping entries will be made of each variety and the results obtained annually from same. A comparison will be made of the results obtained from the different farms on the different conditions of each fruit, thus establishing the variety of each kind of fruit best suited to each locality.

When the orchard projects were

Saskatchewan Fruit

Growing Campaign

Every Assistance To Be Given In Order To Encourage Fruit Growing In The Province

According to a statement just issued by the Hon. James F. Bryant, who is in charge of the Saskatchewan Fruit Growing Campaign on the Institutional Farms of the Province, an excellent start has been made this fall.

The plans which have been carefully thought out and considered in detail for the establishment of fruit orchards on the Saskatchewan Government Institutional Farms, and for the propagation of fruit growing in Saskatchewan are now definitely being undertaken and work has commenced in connection with the tree nursery and the orchards on the Institutional Farms have been laid out and will be surrounded with windbreaks either this fall or early next spring.

Over eleven hundred grafted crabapple trees, one and three years old, of sixteen varieties of Siberian crab roots and northern grown, have been obtained and will be either planted in the Government Nurseries or distributed to the Institutional Farms. The work is being done in an orchard plot 1,370 feet long, 376 feet wide has been laid out and planted with caragana windbreaks. Sixty each of thirteen varieties of hardy crabapple trees have been ready to be shipped to Bradford. The balance of the eleven hundred have been heeled in at the Regina Nursery and will be set out next spring.

Two thousand four hundred young Siberian crab have been obtained and on these will be grafted wood of named crabapples and standard apple stock.

Nearly seventy-five standard apple trees in six varieties have been obtained. These are all varieties that have proven satisfactory in Manitoba and in parts of Saskatchewan where they have been tried out by private individuals.

These grafted plum trees represent the best varieties. One thousand five hundred and ninety seedling plum trees have been obtained for stock or to fruit.

In addition we have obtained from the Experimental Station at Morden, near nine bushels of plum pits from early very hardy plum trees, as well as from a few prominent high quality improved varieties developed on the Bradford farm. The plum seed included the following varieties:

Winnipeg..... 8 pounds

Olson..... 5 "

Carstensen seedling..... 17 "

Native plum..... 150 "

Early Night..... 75 "

Mammoth..... 35 "

Assiniboine seedling..... 25 "

Vaneta..... 40 "

Beechwood seedling..... 30 "

Crescent..... 8 "

Cheney..... 8 "

Assiniboine..... 15 "

A portion of these plum pits have been planted in the Regina Nursery and in other diversities among the Institutional Farm grounds, where they also have been planted. The pits are planted three inches deep about one to two inches apart in rows three feet apart so that they can cultivate between the rows. The pits are being put over the rows in order to retain moisture and assist in germination. Of the plum pits retained for the Regina Nursery, on half has already been planted and the rest will be planted in the spring. A record will be kept of the best germination under each method for future work.

The apple seeds and crabapple seeds have been planted in the Regina Nursery. We have obtained 200 pounds of Western grown fruit from which the seed, mostly Siberian crab, will be taken, and in addition the Experimental Farm grounds. This will be used to plant a series of apple and crabapple trees from which the seed will be used as root stock on which to bud the standard varieties from cuttings and buds obtained from the experimental farms and experimental farms. We are getting bud wood from one hundred varieties of apples and grafting it on the Siberian crab stock next spring.

We have sent a public invitation to all private orchard owners in Saskatchewan after they have eaten their apples and crab, to save the seeds and forward them with their names to the Experimental Farm and Horticultural Nurseries at Regina, as a voluntary contribution to the cause of fruit growing in Saskatchewan. From private sources we expect to receive many valuable materials. Part of the apple and crab apple seed will be planted this fall, and the balance will be kept in a cool cellar when it will be taken out in the spring, soaked in water and then planted.

Mr. J. E. Park, the provincial landscape gardener, who has had a very valuable experience in experimental fruit work, is planning to introduce a set of records in the Regina and on each Institutional Farm, when bookkeeping entries will be made of each variety and the results obtained annually from same. A comparison will be made of the results obtained from the different farms on the different conditions of each fruit, thus establishing the variety of each kind of fruit best suited to each locality.

When the orchard projects were

No more dusting for me!

at least not with old-fashioned dust cloths. I've found a better way,

Thousands of Canadian women know of her "better way" to the dusting of their homes. Many from clean rags and soft paper towels scientifically treated with high-grade furniture polish, it dusts—no cloths—as it polished.

Wonder Paper is changing the old-fashioned ways of housewives.

One neat package of it appeals more to women than yards of old rags that spread dust and constantly need washing.

It gets twenty-five sheets of Wonder Paper for a quarter. Simply crumple a sheet into a soft wad, go over the furniture, woodwork, and the floors. The results are a whole new look. And when you're through, throw away the piece of Wonder Paper. No shaking out, no washing, of dusters. Certainly you ought to try Wonder Paper.

Special Offer

WONDER PAPER—Send us the letter of the famous PARASAN, the Heavy Waxed Paper in the Green Box. Most grocery, hardware and department stores have Apple-Pie Paper in stock. If you send us $1.00 we'll give you a booklet entitled "Leftovers," containing one hundred recipes, as a bonus.

Applied Paper Products, Inc.,
Hamilton, Ontario.

Enclosed find 25c for which please send me one package of The Wonder Paper and your 100 recipes for "Leftovers".

Name.....

Address.....

My dealer is.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

.....

FREE Chanticleer cigarette papers with every package

It's Easy to Roll Your Own with

OGDEN'S FINE CUT CIGARETTE TOBACCO

Your pipe knows Ogden's Cut Plug

THE HOUSE OF DREAMS-COME-TRUE

— BY —

MARGARET PEDLER
Author Of
"The Splendid Folly," "The Hornet of Far End," Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., London.

CHAPTER XXXVI.—Continued.

With a little inarticulate cry she ran to him—to the place that was hers, now—and all for time, against his heart—and his arms, that had been so long empty, held her as though he would never let her go.

"Beloved of my heart!" he murmured. "Oh, my sweet—my sweet!"

They spoke but little. Only those foolish, tender words that seem so meaningless to those who are not lovers but which are pearls strung on a thread of gold to those who love—a rosary of memory which will be theirs to keep and tell again when the beloved voice that uttered them shall sound no more.

CHAPTER XXXVII.

"An House Not Made With Hands"

The landlord of the inn at the Green Dragon watched his two English visitors ride away up the steep road that led to Beirnfels with unquestionable regret.

They had been lodgings at the Green Dragon for the past fortnight, and he had discovered that English milords, whatever else they might be, were not niggardly with their money. They required a good deal of attention, it is true, and had a strange, outlandish predilection for innumerable baths, demanding a quite unheard-of quantity of water for the same. And at all unlikely hours of the day, too—when returning from a ride or before going up to the castle to dine, mark you!

Still, they made no difficulty about paying—and paying handsomely—for all they wanted, and if a man chooses to spend his money upon the superfluous scrubbing of his epidemics, it is, after all, his own affair!

And now the two English milords were taking their departure from the Green Dragon and, so the landlord understood, proposed to stay at the castle itself until their return to England.

It was a very happy party that gathered round the table in the great dining-hall at Beirnfels on the night of Lady Anne's arrival, and beneath all the festive laughter and gaiety lay the deep, quiet thanksgiving that only comes to those who have emerged out of the night of darkness and sorrow into a glorious sunlight of happiness and hope.

After dinner, in the soft, candlelit dusk—for Peterson had never inroduced the garish anomaly of electric light into the ancient castle—Jean sang to them in that quaintly appealing, husky voice of hers, simple tender folk-songs of the countryside, and finally, at a murmured request from Blaise, gave them "The House of Dreams."

It's a strange road leads to the House of Dreams,

To the House of Dreams-Come-True,
The trees are steep and its valleys deep,
And such wet tears the Wayfarers weep.

The Wayfarers—I and you.

But there's sure a way to the House of Dreams,

To the House of Dreams-Come-True,
We shall find it yet, ere sun has set.

If we fare straight on, come fine, come wet.

"Our House of Dreams-Come-True, Jean, at last," he said softly.

She met his glance with one of utter trust.

"And we needn't ever fear, now, that it will tumble down. But oh, Blaise, if we had built on a rotten foundation, we should never have felt safe—not safe like this!"

"No. You were right, beloved—you always have been, always will be." Then, very low, so that none but she should hear: "Thank God for you, my sweet!"

* * * *

It was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

To her, it had been almost like a return to the days of her youth, for "her four children"—as she called them—had insisted on her sharing in all their active pursuits, and Lady Anne, who in her girlhood and early married life had been a first-class horsewoman and a magnificent swimmer, had consented "con amore."

Blaise pulled himself lazily up into a sitting posture and glanced towards the crimson glow of westerly sun where it struck athwart the tall trunks of the trees.

"You'll none of you live to go back to England. Instead, you'll be dying of pneumonia and a few other complaints—if we don't get a move on soon," he observed. "It's almost sunset, and after that it grows abominably chilly in this eastern paradise of Jean's. Besides, I fancy it's going to bring great gales before long."

It was true. Already a little chill whisper of wind was shaking the tops of the trees, and before the party was fairly mounted and away, the whisper had changed to a shrill whistling, heralding the big gale which drove along behind the innocent seeming breeze which at first had merely rocked the topmost branches.

It was a longish ride back to Beirnfels, and the sun had dipped below the horizon in a sultry orb of purple and red before the shoulder of the hill, upon the further side of which the castle stood, came into sight. Now and again, through the haze behind the racing, wind-driven clouds, clearly limning the bold black curve of the hill against a background of towering sky.

Jean and Blaise were riding abreast, a little in advance of the rest, engrossed by the difficulties of carrying on an animated conversation in a high wind. As they swung round the bend in the road which brought the hill's greatest shoulder into view, Jean threw back her head and stared at the sky above it with a puzzled frown on her face.

"Why . . . how queer!" she exclaimed. "The sun set nearly half an hour ago and yet there's still quite a brilliant red glow in the sky. Look, Blaise—just above where Beirnfels stands!"

Blaise glanced up casually in the direction indicated, then suddenly reined in his horse and half-rode in the stirrups, staring at the red glow deepening in the sky ahead.

"That's no sunset!" he exclaimed sharply. "It's—Great heavens, Jean! Beirnfels is on fire!"

Even as he spoke a tongue of flame,

it was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

To her, it had been almost like a return to the days of her youth, for "her four children"—as she called them—had insisted on her sharing in all their active pursuits, and Lady Anne, who in her girlhood and early married life had been a first-class horsewoman and a magnificent swimmer, had consented "con amore."

Blaise pulled himself lazily up into a sitting posture and glanced towards the crimson glow of westerly sun where it struck athwart the tall trunks of the trees.

"You'll none of you live to go back to England. Instead, you'll be dying of pneumonia and a few other complaints—if we don't get a move on soon," he observed. "It's almost sunset, and after that it grows abominably chilly in this eastern paradise of Jean's. Besides, I fancy it's going to bring great gales before long."

It was true. Already a little chill whisper of wind was shaking the tops of the trees, and before the party was fairly mounted and away, the whisper had changed to a shrill whistling, heralding the big gale which drove along behind the innocent seeming breeze which at first had merely rocked the topmost branches.

It was a longish ride back to Beirnfels, and the sun had dipped below the horizon in a sultry orb of purple and red before the shoulder of the hill, upon the further side of which the castle stood, came into sight. Now and again, through the haze behind the racing, wind-driven clouds, clearly limning the bold black curve of the hill against a background of towering sky.

Jean and Blaise were riding abreast, a little in advance of the rest, engrossed by the difficulties of carrying on an animated conversation in a high wind. As they swung round the bend in the road which brought the hill's greatest shoulder into view, Jean threw back her head and stared at the sky above it with a puzzled frown on her face.

"Why . . . how queer!" she exclaimed. "The sun set nearly half an hour ago and yet there's still quite a brilliant red glow in the sky. Look, Blaise—just above where Beirnfels stands!"

Blaise glanced up casually in the direction indicated, then suddenly reined in his horse and half-rode in the stirrups, staring at the red glow deepening in the sky ahead.

"That's no sunset!" he exclaimed sharply. "It's—Great heavens, Jean! Beirnfels is on fire!"

Even as he spoke a tongue of flame,

it was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

To her, it had been almost like a return to the days of her youth, for "her four children"—as she called them—had insisted on her sharing in all their active pursuits, and Lady Anne, who in her girlhood and early married life had been a first-class horsewoman and a magnificent swimmer, had consented "con amore."

Blaise pulled himself lazily up into a sitting posture and glanced towards the crimson glow of westerly sun where it struck athwart the tall trunks of the trees.

"You'll none of you live to go back to England. Instead, you'll be dying of pneumonia and a few other complaints—if we don't get a move on soon," he observed. "It's almost sunset, and after that it grows abominably chilly in this eastern paradise of Jean's. Besides, I fancy it's going to bring great gales before long."

It was true. Already a little chill whisper of wind was shaking the tops of the trees, and before the party was fairly mounted and away, the whisper had changed to a shrill whistling, heralding the big gale which drove along behind the innocent seeming breeze which at first had merely rocked the topmost branches.

It was a longish ride back to Beirnfels, and the sun had dipped below the horizon in a sultry orb of purple and red before the shoulder of the hill, upon the further side of which the castle stood, came into sight. Now and again, through the haze behind the racing, wind-driven clouds, clearly limning the bold black curve of the hill against a background of towering sky.

Jean and Blaise were riding abreast, a little in advance of the rest, engrossed by the difficulties of carrying on an animated conversation in a high wind. As they swung round the bend in the road which brought the hill's greatest shoulder into view, Jean threw back her head and stared at the sky above it with a puzzled frown on her face.

"Why . . . how queer!" she exclaimed. "The sun set nearly half an hour ago and yet there's still quite a brilliant red glow in the sky. Look, Blaise—just above where Beirnfels stands!"

Blaise glanced up casually in the direction indicated, then suddenly reined in his horse and half-rode in the stirrups, staring at the red glow deepening in the sky ahead.

"That's no sunset!" he exclaimed sharply. "It's—Great heavens, Jean! Beirnfels is on fire!"

Even as he spoke a tongue of flame,

it was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

To her, it had been almost like a return to the days of her youth, for "her four children"—as she called them—had insisted on her sharing in all their active pursuits, and Lady Anne, who in her girlhood and early married life had been a first-class horsewoman and a magnificent swimmer, had consented "con amore."

Blaise pulled himself lazily up into a sitting posture and glanced towards the crimson glow of westerly sun where it struck athwart the tall trunks of the trees.

"You'll none of you live to go back to England. Instead, you'll be dying of pneumonia and a few other complaints—if we don't get a move on soon," he observed. "It's almost sunset, and after that it grows abominably chilly in this eastern paradise of Jean's. Besides, I fancy it's going to bring great gales before long."

It was true. Already a little chill whisper of wind was shaking the tops of the trees, and before the party was fairly mounted and away, the whisper had changed to a shrill whistling, heralding the big gale which drove along behind the innocent seeming breeze which at first had merely rocked the topmost branches.

It was a longish ride back to Beirnfels, and the sun had dipped below the horizon in a sultry orb of purple and red before the shoulder of the hill, upon the further side of which the castle stood, came into sight. Now and again, through the haze behind the racing, wind-driven clouds, clearly limning the bold black curve of the hill against a background of towering sky.

Jean and Blaise were riding abreast, a little in advance of the rest, engrossed by the difficulties of carrying on an animated conversation in a high wind. As they swung round the bend in the road which brought the hill's greatest shoulder into view, Jean threw back her head and stared at the sky above it with a puzzled frown on her face.

"Why . . . how queer!" she exclaimed. "The sun set nearly half an hour ago and yet there's still quite a brilliant red glow in the sky. Look, Blaise—just above where Beirnfels stands!"

Blaise glanced up casually in the direction indicated, then suddenly reined in his horse and half-rode in the stirrups, staring at the red glow deepening in the sky ahead.

"That's no sunset!" he exclaimed sharply. "It's—Great heavens, Jean! Beirnfels is on fire!"

Even as he spoke a tongue of flame,

it was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

To her, it had been almost like a return to the days of her youth, for "her four children"—as she called them—had insisted on her sharing in all their active pursuits, and Lady Anne, who in her girlhood and early married life had been a first-class horsewoman and a magnificent swimmer, had consented "con amore."

Blaise pulled himself lazily up into a sitting posture and glanced towards the crimson glow of westerly sun where it struck athwart the tall trunks of the trees.

"You'll none of you live to go back to England. Instead, you'll be dying of pneumonia and a few other complaints—if we don't get a move on soon," he observed. "It's almost sunset, and after that it grows abominably chilly in this eastern paradise of Jean's. Besides, I fancy it's going to bring great gales before long."

It was true. Already a little chill whisper of wind was shaking the tops of the trees, and before the party was fairly mounted and away, the whisper had changed to a shrill whistling, heralding the big gale which drove along behind the innocent seeming breeze which at first had merely rocked the topmost branches.

It was a longish ride back to Beirnfels, and the sun had dipped below the horizon in a sultry orb of purple and red before the shoulder of the hill, upon the further side of which the castle stood, came into sight. Now and again, through the haze behind the racing, wind-driven clouds, clearly limning the bold black curve of the hill against a background of towering sky.

Jean and Blaise were riding abreast, a little in advance of the rest, engrossed by the difficulties of carrying on an animated conversation in a high wind. As they swung round the bend in the road which brought the hill's greatest shoulder into view, Jean threw back her head and stared at the sky above it with a puzzled frown on her face.

"Why . . . how queer!" she exclaimed. "The sun set nearly half an hour ago and yet there's still quite a brilliant red glow in the sky. Look, Blaise—just above where Beirnfels stands!"

Blaise glanced up casually in the direction indicated, then suddenly reined in his horse and half-rode in the stirrups, staring at the red glow deepening in the sky ahead.

"That's no sunset!" he exclaimed sharply. "It's—Great heavens, Jean! Beirnfels is on fire!"

Even as he spoke a tongue of flame,

it was ultimately settled that the whole party should remain at Beirnfels until the latter end of June, when they would all return to England together and the two weddings should take place as soon as possible afterwards.

"But we won't have a double wedding," declared Jean. "It's always supposed to be unlucky."

"Do you believe in good and bad luck, then?" asked Lady Anne, smiling.

"I don't know," Jean answered seriously. "But it's always just as well to be on the safe side. Anyway, we won't tempt Fate by running unnecessary risks!"

"Besides, madonna," added Nick, "in the excitement of the moment we might get mixed and the person hitch us up to the wrong people. The average nerve-strain attendant upon the role of bridegroom will be quite sufficient for me, thank you, without the added uncertainty as to whether I'm getting tied up to the right woman or not."

So spring lengthened out into summer, and, as the heat increased, boating and swimming on the big lake that nestled in a basin of the hills were added to the long rides and excursions with which they whiled away the pleasant, sunshiny days.

Ever afterwards, the memory of those tranquil months at Beirnfels would linger in the minds of those who shared them as something rare and precious. It was as though for this little span of time, passed so far away from the noise and bustle of the big world, they had pulled their barges out of the busy fairway of the river and moored it in some quiet, shady backwater. Then, when they were rested and refreshed, they would be ready to face anew, with fresh strength and courage, the difficulties and dangers of mid-stream.

"I'm sorry it's so nearly over—this long, long holiday of ours," said Jean regretfully. "The only thing that reconciles me to the fact is that after we're married Blaise and I propose to spend at least six months out of every year at Beirnfels."

She was lying on her back in the sandy wood whither they had ridden out to lunch that day, staring up at the bits of blue sky overhead which showed between the interlacing branches of the trees. The remainder of the party were grouped around her, reclining in various attitudes of a "dolce far niente" nature, while from a little distance away, where the horses were picketed in charge of a groom, came the drowsy, rhythmic sound of the munching of corn punctuated by an occasional stamp of an impatient hoof.

"Yes, it's been good," agreed Lady Anne. "I shall never settle down again properly as a dowager at the Dower House!" And she laughed gleefully.

Christmas Papetries

Best Values. Newest Styles.
From 35c to $1.50 each

Radio Lamps

Nice assortment, complete with shades

$4.00 to $4.50

Extra Shades 50c to $5.00

H. C. McBURNEY

Druggist and Stationer

Telephone 44

Phone 32

J. M. ALLAN

Phone 32

Flour! Flour!

We have just unloaded another car of Ogilvie's Royal Household Flour. For more Bread and Better Bread it has no equal. Prices are again reduced.

49 lb sack for - - - $1.20
98 lb sack for - - - $2.35

Whole Wheat Flour,	Graham Flour,
10 lb sack for 35c	10 lb sack for 35c
Ogilvie's Wheat Granules, 6 lb sk. 30c	Corn Meal,
Ogilvie's Rolled Oats, 8 lb sack for 40c	10 lb sack for 50c
Ogilvie's Rolled Oats, 20 lb sack for	Scotch Oatmeal,
	5 lb sack for 30c

Time for Your Christmas Cake We Are Ready

Finen Recleaned	Australian Seedless Raisins, 2 lbs for 35c
Currents, 3 lbs for 50c	Ground Sweet Almonds Imported, per lb 65c
Fancy Bleached	Glaced Cherries, whole, per lb 50c
Raisins, 2 lbs for 45c	Glaced Cherries, ½ lb package for 30c
New Cut Peels, per pkg. 15c and 25c	Glaced Pineapple, in colors, per slice 5c
Finen Quality Shelled Almonds, per lb 50c	Crystallized Ginger, per lb 25c
Shelled Walnuts, Halves, per lb 40c
Crystalized Ginger, per lb

Butter Numaid or Golden Meadow, per lb 30c

Apples MacIntosh Reds or Wagners per crate $1.25

Spuds

Better B. C. Potatoes we never had. Blue Ribbon Quality, dry and mealy, 100 lb sack for $1.60 Alberta Potatoes, 45 lbs for - - - 50c

Malkin's Best Coffee, per lb - - - 45c	A. G. Orange Pekoe Tea, per lb 55c
Malkin's Best Tea, per lb - - - 45c	Victoria Cross Tea, 2 lbs for 75c

Canned Fruits

Australian Canned Fruits are equal to any other on the market today. Pineapple, Pears and Peaches, per tin - - - 25c
Crushed Pineapple, 2 tins for - - - 45c

Ginger Snaps Always a fresh supply 2 lbs 25c

Pumpkin, Royal City Choice, 2 tins for 25c	Peas, Choice Quality, 3 tins for - - - 50c
--	--

Stuffed Olives, per jar - - - 30c	Bird Seed, Spratt's, 2 packages for 45c
-----------------------------------	---

Keiller's Finest Little Chip Orange Marmalade, per jar - - - 30c
You get FREE one Silver Spoon with every jar.

A. G. Flour is giving good satisfaction
49 lb sack for $1.10. 98 lb sack for $2.10

Local News

Showings at the Palace theatre to-night and to-morrow night, "The Famous Ferguson Case". Don't miss this picture.

The rug which was donated to the "Pirates" hockey club was drawn at the Palace theatre on Nov. 9. The number drawn was 168, the winner being Mrs. Devine. The boys wish to thank all who purchased tickets to help get their outfit.

The price-cutter in business creates difficulties for himself which eventually will submerge him and in all probability necessitate the sheriff paying him a visit. An instance of this nature came to hand this week in one of our cities, whereby a firm which had always underbid its competitors was in possession of the sheriff.

A number of Coleman people motored to Pincher Creek on Friday, November 11, to attend an Armistice dance. Among those present were: Miss K. Milley, Miss Ethel Wilson, Miss Edith Hayson, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Devine, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Devine, Dr. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Morrison and daughter Ruth, Mr. R. F. Barnes and Mr. and Mrs. Lindoe.

Skating time is here again. For real A1 values in boots and skate sets, see F. M. Thompson Co., at Blairmore. Girls and ladies, $3.25, sizes from 11 to 7, Boys for $3.25, sizes from 11 to 5, Men's for $3.95 and $4.45, sizes from 6 to 10. These prices are for A1 quality boots, with AI skates attached, costing less than usually asked for boots alone.

Railway ticket clerks meet with many strange experiences, but it is seldom that one has quite the experience that a clerk in an office of the Canadian National Railways had the other day. With great hesitation, a patrol approached the subject of pullman accommodation and meekly asked; "Do you allow two to sleep in one berth?" The clerk began to explain that it was quite customary when the other, blushing furiously, dove into his pocket and produced a paper. "It's alright, you know. Here's my marriage license. I'm leaving on my honeymoon tomorrow. Do I have to show the license to the conductor?"

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Dr. A. E. Shore, of Drs. Gunn, Hackney & Shore, Calgary, will be at the office of Dr. R. F. Stewart, Blairmore, on Friday, Nov. 20th, after 1 p.m.

Anyone wishing to consult him with regard to eye, ear, nose or throat, or to be fitted with glasses, please make appointment with Dr. Stewart.

HOUSE FOR SALE—5 rooms, basement, corner lot and a half, in West Coleman. Has water and electric light. Bargain for $550.00. Apply to Frank H. Gibson at post-office.

The Journal office can fit your orders for commercial stationery

Xmas Gifts

Lingerie, Hose, Sweaters, Scarves and Ladies' and Children's Slippers.

THE BEST QUALITY ONLY

Antrobus' Shoe Store

Calgary's Popular Priced Hotels —
HOTEL YORK
EVERYTHING NEWEST—Rates $2.00 to $3.00
Coffee Shop — Best Food — Lowest Prices
— ALSO OPERATING —
HOTEL ST. REGIS
RATES: $1.00 and $1.50 Weekly and Monthly Rates

Phone 232

Ed. Ledieu
The Big Corner Store

Phone 232

Specials

Good Only for November 18, 19 and 21

Quality is of prime importance when comparing values. That's why our Weekly Specials always lead in bargains.

Kadana Tea, 2 pounds for	65c	Winnipeg Molasses Snaps, 2 lbs 29c
Nabob Spices, Shaker tins, 3 for	25c	Fig Bars, fresh stock, per lb 19c
Canned Tomatoes, 24's, 3 tins	40c	Bramble Jelly, 4 pound tins 58c
Dorothy Milk, tall size, 2 tins	25c	Pink Salmon, tall size, 2 tins 25c
Shelled Walnuts, pieces, per lb	33c	Quick Arrow Soap Chips, 2 pkts. 25c

Meat Specials—Saturday Only

Take advantage of the ONE-DAY Specials—Purchase sufficient to take care of two or three days requirements.

Swift's Pure Pork Sausage, per pound	10c	Pot Roast Beef or Veal, per lb 10c
Round Steak, 2 pounds for	25c	Pork Shoulder Roast, per lb 11c

SERVICE - QUALITY - LOW PRICE - FREE DELIVERY

Here and There

Over 100,000 lbs. of oats are exported annually from Canada, chiefly to Germany and the United States. Some are caught along the lower St. Lawrence River and off the Atlantic Coast.

A total of 50,123 radio receivers have been landed by Canadian Government Radio Branch from April 1 to September 30, 1932, or approximately one to every 100,000 inhabitants of the population of the Dominion.

A movie theatre has been built on R. M. S. S. King on the Australasian run and passengers had the first entertainment in that line on a recent voyage. This is the first ship to reach Vancouver carrying sound movie equipment.

China's first woman barrister, Mrs. Lo Sien Kim Tsoo, was among the passengers aboard the Empress of Russia, recently sailing from Vancouver. Mrs. Soo obtained her legal training in England and is attached to the Hong Kong bar.

The Canadian people seem to have developed a considerable taste for macaroni, vermicelli, spaghetti and the like Italian food preparations. Output of 14 Canadian factories last year was 21,311,423 pounds as compared with 16,819,625 lbs. in 1930.

With Remembrance Day in our minds, it is timely to recall the brief epitome of Canada's part in the war inscribed on a tablet in the House of Parliament at Ottawa. "In hundred twenty-eight thousand six hundred forty-two bore the badge of Canada in the Great War; sixty thousand six hundred sixty-one met death and passed on."

Gold mining is reported from the Lakes Creek near Matassina, Ontario, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway, seventy miles east of Sudbury. Moose and deer are plentiful and these to the camp and in one morning a couple of U. S. hunters secured a fine bull moose and a deer. They killed to the limit of their licenses within a few days.

Buy typewriter ribbons and copying paper at The Journal office. Blank counter check books or printed to your order, may also be obtained.

You Must Be Equipped Well, To Play Well

See us for C. C. M. Hockey Boots and Skates, Sticks and Pucks

It Pays to Play

PATTINSON'S HARDWARE STORE
Hardware, Electrical Goods, Tools, Etc.
Store Phone 180
House Phone 30 F

REMINGTON PORTABLE TYPEWRITERS
Ribbons, Carbon Paper, etc., on sale at The Journal office.

BEER IS GOOD FOR YOU

The following statement was made by Sir Thomas Horder, physician to the Prince of Wales, at a public dinner gathering held April 15th, in London, England:

"The willing and happy worker will get more work done and do it better than the unwilling and discontented worker. It is in the direction that their great contribution to economic efficiency.

"Appetite is a function of the brain as much or even more than the stomach, and its importance in the physiology of digestion and nutrition is very great. It is stimulated by a moderate use of such a beverage as beer, and at the same time feeds a given life which results in larger and richer activities."

The beer brewed in Alberta contains every element and quality that Sir Thomas Horder would expect to find in the wholesome beverages of malt and hops he so strongly advocates.

PHONE 103
COLEMAN

AGENTS FOR THE BREWING INDUSTRY OF ALBERTA

DISTRIBUTORS
LIMITED

This Advertisement is not inserted by the Alberta Liquor Control Board, or by the Government of the Province of Alberta.